#8 Steps to Build Agile, High-Performing Teams That Drive Change
	Build an Agile Leadership Team Assemble a cross-functional group of leaders and influencers with the mindset and capabilities to lead through change — collaboratively and decisively.
	Craft a Clear and Compelling Vision Define a vision that inspires action, aligns with strategic goals, and resonates with both internal and external stakeholders.
	Focus on High-Impact Levers Identify the key processes, behaviors, or systems that will unlock the greatest value — and prioritize actions that support your vision.
	Communicate with Transparency and Consistency Keep your teams aligned and engaged by sharing priorities, progress, and challenges openly across multiple channels.
	5. Empower Teams to Act Equip your teams with the authority, tools, and support they need to take ownership — and remove barriers that slow them down.
	6. Create Quick Wins Early Implement fast, visible improvements to generate momentum, build trust, and demonstrate that change is working.
	7. Scale What Works Use early successes to expand initiatives, tackle tougher obstacles, and embed agility deeper into the organization.
	8. Sustain Change Through Culture Integrate new habits, systems, and leadership behaviours into daily operations — so change sticks and becomes part of how your organization works long-term.
